

Study Computer Science during Fall 2018 (or the entire 2018 – 2019 academic year) at Northern Kentucky University (NKU) in Highland Heights, USA

Part-time work opportunities available

Why Highland Heights, USA?

- Highland Heights is a suburban city located near Cincinnati, OH, a metropolitan area of more than 2 million people.
- Cincinnati is the first major city founded after American Revolution and the first major inland city.
- Cincinnati is home to many major corporations such as Procter & Gamble, The Kroger Company, etc.
- Right – Downtown Cincinnati.

Why NKU?

- Babeş-Bolyai University (BBU) and NKU have an exchange agreement that allows Romanian students to study at NKU without tuition.
- There have been more than 10 students exchanges between these two universities including four in Computer Science,
- Left – NKU campus.

Why Computer Science?

- During 2018 – 2019 academic year, there are two part-time positions (20 hours per week) available for BBU students; these students will work in the Center of Applied Informatics at NKU (<http://cai.nku.edu>).
- Your classes will be transferred to BBU.
- Two NKU Computer Science professors are from Romania and graduated and worked at BBU.
- Right – Griffin Hall where CS department is located.

For more information regarding the academic exchange program between NKU and BBU contact any of the following: Dr. Carmen Tâgşorean (carmen.tagsorean@ubbcluj.ro), Mrs. Anne Perry (perrya@nku.edu), Dr. Traian Marius Truta (trutat1@nku.edu), or Dr. Anca Andreica (anca@cs.ubbcluj.ro).

To apply please send your resume and a short motivation letter to Dr. Anca Andreica (anca@cs.ubbcluj.ro).

Application deadline: March 1, 2018